- (ii) was first built in the appropriate year, and
- (iii) either (a) has a chassis/VIN number which was allocated to it when new by the manufacturer, or
(b) has a history entirely consistent with the absence of a chassis/VIN number giving rise to no reasonable doubt as to its authenticity.

The FIA Heritage Committee has assessed the evidence, is of the opinion that the car identified is the vehicle it purports to be, and has accordingly issued this certificate.
